SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT.

Girls! Get a 25 cent bottle and try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating effect produces healthy properties, cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it—Adv.

WHEN YOU WASH YOUR HAIR DON'T USE SOAP

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

Then best thing to use is just plain mulified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff—Adv.

Mrs. Nellis and Doctor Gephart went to school together when they were children.

The high waistline always suggests youth, and new spring tailors, short of waist and of skirt, are fetchingly fetching. The model is of gazarine in a new and fashionable shade of green with a white Tipperary sailor trimmed with green grapes and black velvet. While really fastening at the front, the frock suggests a back fastening. This is a tailored trottier costume, not a coat and skirt model.

Topeka has no male leisure class (except hoboes in dull times); so it is rather a rare circumstance to find men at afternoon parties, except Sunday teas or New Year's open house affairs. But at nearly all the informal afternoon parties, the men are present. Mrs. Nellis has been hostess this winter some men have called. The lion of the afternoon yesterday was Mr. Charles Edwards of Kinsley, who is in Topeka on his way to the State Capitol. He is a reader, and for some years has been interested in stagecraft in a professional and near-professional way, without much regard to pecuniary advantages or disadvantages. His father, you know, is a wealthy man, who maintains a handsome residence, "Trail's End," out at Kinsley. So being a sort of dilettante, he does not need the necessity of hammering a living out of cold, practical, worldly business, the young man went in for classic literature and theatricals. He directed the performance of Shakespearean plays in the western part of the state, and last season he supervised the presentation of "As You Like It" with a large cast, before good sized audiences.

Mr. Edwards last week played an engagement at the Auditorium in Kansas City, in "Madame X." He is not a regular member of the company, though a review of the play in a Kansas City paper speaks of him as "The company's" member. He has found a welcome in Kansas City. The review speaks well of his reading of his lines and of his manner. A few parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fischer, who live at the Broadlands, where he lives, and I heard that they were all in a flutter of excitement over his debut in "Madame X" and as evidence of his appreciation of the interest he gave them so many flowers that the Broadlands looked like a nosegay emporium.

Notes and Personal Mention.
Mrs. Otis Benson, of Oberlin, Kan., is visiting Mrs. Lucia O. Case. Mr. Benson is Mrs. Case's brother.
Mr. J. J. St. John, of Olathe, Kan., former governor of Kansas, arrived today to join Mrs. St. John in a visit to Judge and Mrs. DeWitte C. Nellis.
Mr. E. E. Ames, who underwent an operation at Stormont hospital, is recovering, and has been taken to his home at the Broadlands, where he lives, and I heard that they were all in a flutter of excitement over his debut in "Madame X" and as evidence of his appreciation of the interest he gave them so many flowers that the Broadlands looked like a nosegay emporium.

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of Today.)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths, if she will use the Eclipse treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when even trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.—Adv.

Cured His RUPTURE!

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 344 A. Marcellus Avenue, Kansas City, Mo. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Adv.
